

The Democrat.

BARCOCK telegraphed that he was innocent.

The sons of "Auld Scotia" celebrated St. Andrew's day, Tuesday, November 30th, in New York, Cincinnati and other cities.

This "mysterious naval activity" is only a scheme of the administration to spend money before congress meets to prevent it. Two years ago some four millions were squandered in the same way.

SCHULTZ & BERGENTHAL at Milwaukee, rectifiers, and convicted of shipping whiskey without entering the same as the law requires, were yesterday sentenced to pay $1,000 each and remain imprisoned four months in the county jail.

GEN. BARCOCK, private Secretary, and Lieut. Colonel Frederick Grant, son of the President of the United States, seem likely to be implicated in the St. Louis whisky ring robberies. These robberies it is thought caused a loss to the U. S. Treasury of $40,000.00.

In his voluntary advice last week to the "incoming Republican Legislature," neighbor Bacon says, "the Republicans have had control of Ohio except the last two years." A mistake, the Democrats in 1867 elected a majority in the Legislature, commencing in January 1868 and that General Assembly elected ALLEN G. THURMAN to the United States Senate for six years and he has since been re-elected.

JUDOK ADVOCATE GENERAL, JOSEPH HOYT, has been retired at his own request. An exchange says, "he has served 13 years and has contrived more villainy in the name of Justice than any other man save Fouché or Fouquier-Tinville. He is one of the few Americans whose names will go down to history red with the stains of innocent blood. Among the political renegades of 1861 he was not as reckless, as Butler or as Stanton, but he was more malignant than the one and baser than the other. For years he has stalked out of sight and been shunned even by such as yet live of the men who used him in their day of power to enslave and torture their fellows. He now retires to avoid ejection by a House of Congress which will really represent the American people. But it will be the duty of the House to see that he carries with him into his retirement nothing but the livery of shame which he has woven and shaped and filled to himself forever."

DEATH OF WILLIAM B. ASTOR.

The New York papers of November 24, announce the death of William B. Astor. William B. was the son of the celebrated John Jacob Astor who died in 1848 probably the wealthiest man in America. His son was born in New York in March 1794 and devoted his life to business, thereby increasing the vast Astor estate. It is estimated at from forty to over one hundred millions of dollars. John Jacob Astor's estate was estimated at $20,000,000 mostly in real estate. William B. Astor as executor faithfully carried out his father's will. The bequests amounted to two millions and $50,000 was distributed in charity.

The original fund for the Astor library was $100,000, of which $100,000 was to be expended in the site and building and in the purchase of books, and $180,000 to be invested as a fund to increase the library. The amount expended up to the present moment on this library has been about $600,000. William B. Astor's fortune is estimated at $130,000,000, but on this subject he was always very reticent. To show his generous disposition, he gave an annuity of $5,000 per annum to D. Cogswell, former librarian of the Astor library. Mr. Astor married a daughter of General Armstrong, Secretary of War under Madison, and had six children by her, five of whom are living—three sons and two daughters. Since 1841 the family have lived on Lexington avenue. Their summers were spent at Rhinebeck, near Tarrytown, on the Hudson. The deceased attended St. Bartholomew's church. One of his sons served with distinction on General McClellan's staff during the war. The brothers have an office in Wall st. and live in Fifth avenue in princely style.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

The Woodbridge-Barclay contest trial or the office of Representative is in progress in Mahoning county.

The debt of Youngstown, says the Vindicator, is $200,000.

The A. & G. W. railroad men of Meadville, have established a reading room and circulating library in the depot at Meadville.

The McKinney Coal Company, of Youngstown, has been served with a writ of injunction at the instance of Andrew Roy, State Inspector of Mines. Mr. Roy claims that the Company is operating this bank without complying with the laws of the State. The case will be reached in about two weeks.

The Columbiana county Teachers' Institute will meet in Leetonia on Monday the 20th of December.

The project is again agitated of extending the Niles and New Lisbon railroad south-westwardly through Salineville, to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The right of way has been obtained almost the entire distance.

A man named Thomas Duffy, a plasterer by trade, was found dead in his bed Friday morning at the residence of Harrison Walter, about two miles northeast of New Lisbon. Duffy was about 28 years of age. He had been in town the evening before, and it is said imbibed freely of intoxicants. The inquest said heart disease.

An accident happened on the Panhandle railroad at Urbichville a few days ago, by which three Irish laborers were killed and a number of persons wounded. It appears that a freight and a construction train collided. The coroner's jury said carelessness.

At Youngstown, O., on Saturday, Jacob Lees, a colored laborer, fell sixty feet from the new court house and was killed. The scaffold gave way.

Pittsburg, Nov. 24.—Early this morning a fire occurred at McKeesport, Pa., which destroyed five buildings on Market street, near the Diamond, owned by James Hendrickson, John Allebrand and C. Schaeffer & Brothers, booksellers. The total loss is estimated at $13,000; insurance about $9,000.

Steuensville, Nov. 24.—This forenoon a fire was discovered in the building occupied by the Adams Express. Adjoining stores were seen in flames. The loss will be about $20,000; nearly covered by insurance.

Cleveland, Nov. 25.—A young boy named Lasele, about eight years old, while performing at the Theatre Comique, last night, made a leap from the trapeze, and struck on a carpet held by attendants. In some way, the carpet slipped from their hands, throwing the boy on the stage, so severely injuring him that he is not expected to live.

Sandusky, Nov. 28.—John Cherry, distributing clerk in the postoffice here, has been arrested on a charge of opening letters and stealing money from them. People have been losing money in that manner for six months.

Rev. C. W. SMITH, of the M. E. Church of this town, preached the Union Thanksgiving sermon in the First Presbyterian Church. His remarks upon free love and its advocates were severe and were well received by the large congregation. Mr. Smith is a popular and able preacher.

WHISKY TRIALS.

St. Louis November 24.—The case of Wm. O. Avery was continued in the United States District Court to-day. Meguire was again put on the stand and repeated most of his testimony in the McDonald trial concerning Avery. He said he never paid that gentleman any money and had no positive knowledge of his being paid, but the money received from distillers here was divided into packages, and one was marked for Avery and given to Joyce at first $100 per week, and afterwards $300. Witness saw Avery here once in 1875, but had no conversation with him; witness saw and talked with Avery in Washington about crooked whisky in the fall of 1872. At that time Brasher was about ready to visit St. Louis to work up the frauds, and he told witness that Avery was fighting him; witness saw Avery at Brasher's request and told him he was foolish to oppose Brasher, as he (Avery) had received his share of profits of the crooked whisky business as well as he. The witness said if they were to fight Brasher, the whole thing would be discovered. Avery said he was not fighting Brasher. It seems that prominent parties in Washington were backing Brasher in working up frauds in St. Louis, while McDonald and Joyce were trying to keep him out of their district, and Avery told sides with the latter. Joyce told witness that he had received letters from Avery notifying him when the agents were coming here, and showed him several, but he (witness) was not familiar enough with Avery's handwriting to tell whether they were written by Avery. Witness visited Avery at his house in Washington in 1874 to pump him as to whether he was still giving information to the ring here. He did not order me out of his house, nor did I shake my fist at him and tell him I would get even with him; we parted in a very friendly manner, shaking hands cordially. This is the substance of all the testimony given by Meguire, directly bearing upon Avery.

THE MILWAUKEE CASE.

MILWAUKEE, November 24.—The case of Robert Kiewert & Leopold Worth distillers, was given to the jury at eleven o'clock tonight. There are three indictments. Judge Drummond charged that the evidence in the third count was insufficient. Judge Dyer decided that the injunction granted by the county court restraining Collector Bean from selling the property of J. P. Kessinger for an assessment of $247,000 levied by the Commissioners of Internal Revenue be dissolved and that the Collector may proceed. Kissinger was a member of the Chicago distilling company.

The Excelsior Band of this village have just received splendid new instruments, and offer their old horns for sale.

Two of our young men were fined by the Mayor on last Monday for disorderly conduct and fighting on last Sunday.

CASTORIA

Crow, sickly babies and children may enjoy health, and mothers have rest, if they use Castoria. Worms, feverishness, teething, wind colic, stomach and undigested food make children cross, and produce sickness.

Castoria will assimilate the food, expel worms, and correct all these things. For twenty years Dr. Pitcher experimented in his private practice to produce an effective (cathartic and stomach regulator which would be as effective as Castor Oil, without its unpleasant taste or recoil.

The reputation of his experiment extended. Physicians and nurses rapidly adopted his remedy, to which he gave the name of Castoria.

Castoria is as pleasant to take as honey, regulates the stomach and bowels, and does not grip. It is adapted to all ages, contains no alcohol, and is absolutely harmless to the most tender infant. Try Castoria once, and you will never be without it.
